Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

Currently significant innovations are changing and improving our decisions and options in the diagnostic and treatment of breast cancer patients. The annual congress of the Swiss Society of Senology provides the perfect platform to get informed and be connected. We could invite outstanding national and international experts, who will discuss with you the most recent developments in a very condense and extraordinary setting. We also appreciate the work and efforts of our next generation of senologists, who will present their research results. Together with the MIBB symposium this meeting offers a comprehensive overview in a very attractive location in the heart of Switzerland. We look forward to welcoming you to Lucerne.

Cordially,

Prof. Andreas Günthert
SSS Congress President

Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

As in the years before we will have another MIBB Symposium and MIBB Hands-on workshop together with the Swiss Senology Congress taking place in Lucerne Sep 16th – Sep 18th, 2020.

Minimal invasive breast biopsies (MIBB) is what we are primarily focusing on, hence, our main topics will address controversies in connection with BIRADS classification, new vacuum biopsy techniques, international guidelines on B3 lesions but also newest marking techniques of breast lesions together with preoperative planning in the neoadjuvant setting.

Optimal preoperative planning is strongly related to optimal breast imaging, be it within a screening or diagnostic setting. Tomosynthesis has been demonstrated to detect more cancer but is still under discussion due to its drawbacks. If artificial intelligence (AI) could be a solution to more effectively manage the huge amount of tomosynthesis data, will be discussed by one of the leading physicists and also clinicians.

I am looking forward to welcoming you to our MIBB events together with the Senology congress in Lucerne.

With cordial regards

Dr. Claudia Kurtz
